Additional comments: There is an interest within academic community to develop joint master programmes. However, it is our perception, based on the discussions held at various round tables, seminars, conferences etc. that, due to clearly precise rules on procedures, time-consuming accreditation procedure and the fact that there haven't been any joint programmes so far developed in Montenegro prevents them from creation of joint programmes. There were some initiatives to create joint programmes, building on the developed partnerships through Tempus projects. However, nothing has been still realized.
